State disciplines health care providers

OLYMPIA — The Washington State Department of Health has taken disciplinary actions or withdrawn charges against health care providers in our state.

The department's Health Systems Quality Assurance Division works with boards, commissions, and advisory committees to set licensing standards for more than 80 health care professions (e.g., medical doctors, nurses, counselors).

Information about health care providers is on the agency website. Click on "Look up a healthcare provider license" in the "How Do I?" section of the Department of Health website (doh.wa.gov). The site includes information about a health care provider's license status, the expiration and renewal date of their credential, disciplinary actions and copies of legal documents issued after July 1998. This information is also available by calling 360-236-4700. Consumers who think a health care provider acted unprofessionally are also encouraged to call and report their complaint.

Clallam County

In September 2012 the Nursing Commission amended the statement of charges against registered nurse and advanced registered nurse practitioner Bridgett B. Kraft (RN00067557, AP30005000-AP). Kraft allegedly failed to complete and/or save more than 1,900 chart notes regarding patient care. It's also alleged that she didn't process referrals, or review lab and X-ray results, in a timely way.

In September 2012 the Naturopathy Board charged Richard A. Marschall (NT00000532) with unprofessional conduct. Marschall was convicted in federal court in 2011 of causing the introduction of a misbranded drug. Marschall allegedly refers to himself as a "bariatric endocrinologist." No board certification exists for naturopathic doctors in bariatric endocrinology.

In September 2012 the Counselor Program granted the agency affiliated counselor credential of Stephanie Marie Trumbull (CG60302475) and placed it on probation until she completes her substance abuse monitoring program.
